Manhood needs a herald, like the heralds of old, to claim so vast an all may hear, the vital importance of health. The average man of to-day thinks it beneath his dignity to bother about his health until it is gone. Even then he only takes measures to restore it in an indifferent, contemptuous sort of way.

Men cannot learn too soon that health is the most important thing in life. Without it the most brilliant man will be a failure, and the most robust man will rapidly become a physical wreck. The man who neglects the little headaches, the loss of appetite and sleep, nervousness, hot flushes, cold chills, heavy head, lax muscles, and the multitude of bad feelings that are the heralds of approaching sickness and disease, must pay a tremendous penalty. For men who suffer in this way there is no medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It sharpens the appetite, corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver, makes the assimilation of the food perfect, purifies the blood and with the life-giving elements that build new, healthy flesh, it is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption and is the best of all known remedies for nervous troubles. Thousands have told, over their own signatures, the stories of the wonders it has performed. Honest dealers will not urge a substitute for the sake of a little extra profit.

Thomas Fletcher, of Clifton Station, Fairfax Co., Va., writes: "I suffered terrible tortures for ten years with 'gastralgia' (pain in the stomach). I then took six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which completely cured me."

When the bowels are regular the body will feel good and the mind will be active. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. All good dealers sell them and have nothing else "just as good."

A MECHANICAL MARVEL.

What Sixty Miles an Hour Means to the Locomotive.

It all sounds simple in the recital. The wonder of the thing comes into view only when one reflects on the speed and alacrity with which cumbersome parts are made to do their duty. The piston and connecting bar of a modern locomotive weigh some 600 pounds. When the speed is 60 miles an hour, these parts travel back and forth five times a second. Ten times a second, at the end of every stroke, the piston head is at rest. It must pass from this condition to a velocity of 1,800 feet per minute in one-twentieth of a second. The drive wheels measure more than a rod at every revolution, but when going 60 miles an hour they must turn more than 300 times a minute.

Sixty miles an hour is the merest commonplace to the mind of the up to date railroad man, but it means other things besides those described that are wonderful to the outsider. It means a steam pressure blow of 20 tons on each piston head every tenth of a second. It means that up in the cab the fireman is throwing into the furnace two-thirds of a ton of coal every hour. No. 900 burns coal faster than ten men can mine it. It means two quarts of oil every hour to keep her journal boxes greased and everything running smoothly. It means that the engine with its half dozen cars and load of human freight is moving through space with twice the power of a shot from a 100 ton gun. It means that the engineer has worked her up to the point where she can use every ounce of steam, that he is coaxing her as a jockey urges his mount in a fierce race, and yet it means that he is ready at a second's notice to move the reversing lever and apply the airbrakes that will stop the mighty avalanche within the distance that it covers as it stands on the tracks.—Earl W. Mayo in Ainslee's.

WINGS OF THE HONEYBEE.

A Microscopic View of One of Nature's Wonderful Schemes.

At a meeting of the New York Microscopical society the president of the organization exhibited, besides other things, the honeybee's wing, showing the looklets by means of which the lower of the two wings of the bee is joined to the upper wing in flying, thus making them practically a single wing. The upper of the two wings is about half an inch in length, the lower a little shorter. The wings come together where they are joined to the body; they are otherwise separate. When the bee goes into its hive, it folds its wings together, one leaf over the other, so that they will take up less room. When it goes abroad, it spreads its wings and couples them together with the hooks. When looked at under the microscope, the upper edge of the lower wing is seen to be re-enforced as though it had an extra plate or rib stretched along there, and to this rib, spaced apart at regular intervals, though they are all contained within a total space of little more than a quarter of an inch, there are attached 19 or 20 tiny, bony hooks. There is a little thickening at the base of each hook, where nature has strengthened it, and one is inclined to regard the hooks as inset separately and to look for the rivets wherewith they were secured to the plate or rib from which they spring.

The lower edge of the upper wing, as looked at under the microscope, is seen to be curled up into a flange or trough. When the bee comes out of the hive, it hooks the hooks on the upper edge of the lower wing into that flange or trough at the lower edge of the upper wing and so makes the two wings practically one.—New York Sun.

Japan's Queer Stores.

Japanese are very fond of strolling through their bazaars. You enter at one door and leave by another. Goods for sale are displayed on each side of aisles that wind through the length of the shop. Passing up and down these aisles, they lead you to the second and often third story of the building and then back again through different aisles, causing you to travel the length of the establishment many times. Finally you see the doorway a few feet distant, but even then you must travel this maze several times its length to escape.

Usually shopping is very restful in Japan. You sit around on the floor, and in some shops they bring you cups of tea to sip and a "hibachi" from which to light your pipe.—Baltimore Sun.

The Bachelor.
A bachelor is a coward and a failure. He shaves and primps, but is too cowardly to put his arm around success and press it to his bosom. He resolves to marry every day for 40 years, but when the hour for the duel arrives, when in the presence of trembling, rosy cheeks, when beauty shakes her curls, his courage oozes, and he flees the field without even learning of the cowpath that leads to matrimony. Better be old dinky 'Eustus in his cabin, where he holds old Dinah's hand and asks, "Who's sweet?" and Dinah drops her head on his shoulder and says, "Bofo of us."—Shawnee Daily Chief.

A Terrific Tumble.
Most marvelous of all the stories of great falls is the account of Charles Woolcot's terrific tumble from a height of no less than 3,000 feet. It was in Venezuela, and he was making a parachute descent. The parachute refused to open till within 100 or 200 feet from the ground. Then it spread out suddenly and split.
The unfortunate man crushed both ankles and both knees, broke his right thigh and hip, dislocated his spinal column and suffered other injuries. Yet after a year in a hospital he recovered sufficiently to write an account of what was probably the most fearful accident mortal man ever survived.

Restful.
They had been sitting together for half an hour.
"I have enjoyed our conversation so much!" she exclaimed, as she rose to go. "It is so restful to talk with you!"
And after she had left him he remembered that he hadn't been able to get in ten words edgewise throughout the whole conversation.—Somerville Journal.

WHEN MEN MISS SUCCESS.

Idleness and Incompetency Keep the Business Novice Down.

Walter P. Phillips, the founder of the national newspaper corporation known as the United Press, and the inventor of Phillips' telegraphic code, a typical, energetic American, who has put many young men in the news gathering business, believes that the cause of failure everywhere among young business beginners lies in incompetence.

Nine-tenths of the young men who are struggling for a name and place in the world are unfitted for the callings they have picked out for themselves. Besides an unlimited supply of energy and whole heartedness in the work before him, the successful man of the future must know his business from A to Z.

The next great drawback to success is idleness. Nothing worth while is accomplished without work, and plenty of it. Things do not happen without a cause, and behind every great life there are years of concentrated energy and tireless industry. Idleness will make any man a failure; intelligent work will land any man among the successful. It is all so simple and so true that one hesitates to put the fact down in cold blood, and yet how few men recognize, or, recognizing, live up to the axiom that labor conquers all things.

Idleness and the consciousness of incompetence should make any man ashamed of himself and drive him to do something that is worth the doing. It is within the grasp of every one to learn some one thing that will yield both pleasure and profit. Success comes only to those who seek it.

The young man who is really in earnest will not have to be advised how to succeed. He may learn much by studying the failures of others, however, and he will always find, after a survey of the great legion of the unsuccessful, that two causes have brought them to their present misery—Idleness and incompetency.—Saturday Evening Post.

"THE FUSION QUESTION."

Under the above caption was lately published in the Carson Appeal a column of stuff, in the shape of a communication, in opposition to the proposition of the Democratic State Central Committee that the three parties in the State favoring bimetalism combine their forces by a joint call of the three committees for a State convention to nominate electoral and State tickets. It is the first symptom of opposition to the liberal and logical method proposed by the Democratic committee that has appeared in print, or that we have heard from the lips of any silver man in the State, and is undoubtedly the keynote to the policy of the followers of the man who has for the last eight or ten years absolutely controlled the politics of the State in the interest of the corporation of which he is the salaried political agent in Nevada.

The writer proposes that the State conventions of the three parties meet on the same day at the same place and unite on an electoral ticket. The Democratic committee's proposition is that a convention be called by the three State committees, the delegates to be elected at primaries at which all silver men shall be entitled to vote, irrespective of their former party affiliations or preferences, and that all of the delegates shall have an equal voice in the election of delegates to the national Democratic convention and the nominating of electoral and State tickets. Could anything be more fair than that?

The Silver or Populist party could not, under those names, elect delegates who would be recognized in the convention which will unquestionably nominate William Jennings Bryan for the presidency; but the Democratic committee proposes to give the members of those organizations equal voices in the choice of the representatives from the State in the convention of the only national silver party in the country, thereby affording them an opportunity, not only to vote at the polls for the great champion of silver and equal rights, but the honor of participating in his nomination.

The JOURNAL believes that it voices the sentiment of the Democratic State Central Committee when it asserts that the members would not care a brass farthing if every delegate elected and every presidential elector and State officer nominated, was taken from the ranks of the Silver and Populist parties, provided they endorsed the principles and supported the candidates of the great silver party of the nation.

So far as the State ticket is concerned, there are only a Congressional Representative, Supreme Judge and University Regent to be nominated and elected, and the JOURNAL knows of no Democrat who acted with the party last year who is an aspirant or candidate for either of those positions, and the choices would therefore necessarily fall upon individuals who had theretofore acted with either the Silver or Populist parties. With the Democratic State Committee it is not a matter of candidates. Its object evidently, judging from its published resolutions, is to unite the Silver and anti-Republican forces under the same banner; to prevent division in the ranks of those advocating a common cause, and avert all danger of the cohorts of goldbugism scoring a plurality victory in a State with a two thousand majority against the political heresies and oppressions they advocate.

The Appeal writer prates of "bad faith" to the members of the Silver party "who do not endorse the principles of the Democratic party outside of the silver question." Bad faith, indeed! Was it not distinctly understood when the Silver party was organized that its purpose was to manifest the strength of the bimetallic cause within our borders and for its moral effect in inducing one of the two great national parties to adopt bimetalism as one of its cardinal principles, and when that purpose was effected its mission was ended? Have the leaders—or, rather, has the leader of that party kept his promise in that respect?

Of the alleged tender footed and over sensitive class referred to by the Appeal correspondent, they will hardly feel complimented by his measurement of their intellectual and moral capacities. What difference, in the name of common sense, does it make to them whether they vote for William J. Bryan through electors nominated by a Silver Party Convention, or one called upon the plan proposed by the Democratic State Central Committee? Mr. Bryan will be pledged to support all of the principles set forth in the platform upon which he is nominated and who ever chooses the electors in the State of Nevada will make no difference to him in the matter of his obligations. The JOURNAL credits the Silver Republicans who joined the Silver party, with more sense than does the Appeal writer, who would make them appear a set of hide bound fanatics who would desert a cherished principle because of the name of the party that supports it. The Appeal correspondent boasts that the Silver Party took the Democrats "out of the wet" in 1896 by giving them two representatives on the electoral ticket who have already been nominated by a Democratic State Convention. It seems to us rather that it was the Democratic party which adopted a sixteen to one platform and nominated the great silver champion, which extirpated the Silver party from the mixture, by giving them a national candidate instead of a figure head for whom to vote.

But the whole matter, it is evident, will resolve itself into the question of one or two more conventions. The two convention policy has been tried twice and with most unsatisfactory results in both instances and the honest and sincere silver men in the State are heartily sick and tired of it. They know who is the ruling power in at least one of each gatherings and that its proceedings will be guided by him in the interest of the corporation he serves. Conventions are far more easily managed than the people. The only logical and safe method is to leave the matter to the tire force of Silver men in the State through primaries called by the three State committees. That is the only way by which the opponents of the common enemy can be effectually consolidated.

The Democratic State Central Committee, as the local representatives of the party which will furnish the candidate acceptable to the Silver men of Nevada, have taken the initiative in the matter and have submitted a proposition which is acceptable to probably nine-tenths of the bimetalists of all parties in the State. This is evident from correspondence from all parts of the State to the secretary of the Democratic committee which has been shown the JOURNAL, and which he assures us any doubting silver man is at liberty to peruse.

Democratic County Committees have been and are being organized in various counties, the most active members of which, until the last few months, were classed as Silver party men. Those who would endanger if not defeat a great, glorious and righteous cause will follow a leader who evidently hopes by division of the forces to score a victory for the party which his employees notorious by favor, and for which they never fail to cast their influence, and spend their money when there is the slightest prospects for favorable political returns.

Of course, if the polygamist Roberts is ousted from his seat in Congress, the Republican party will make a claim to credit upon high moral lines. In fact, many of the party organs are already boasting that the Republican party is the enemy of polygamy as the representative of the morality of the people. To refute the claim it is only necessary to look into a little congressional history to ascertain that in January or February, 1892, in the debate of a contested question of a delegate from Utah—George Q. Cannon, if we are not mistaken—a resolution was offered in favor of excommunicating from Congress any delegate from that territory guilty of living in polygamous marital relations, or of teaching or instigating others to do so. This was adopted by a vote of nearly 200 to about 25, the negative votes being all Republican.

Colonel Kelly Dead.
Colonel Terrence Kelly, a Comstock pioneer, died at the hospital yesterday morning. He was employed for thirty years or more as case-keeper in the club rooms of Thomas Buckner and was known far and wide as a romancer, to whose imagination there was apparently no limit. He claimed to have been a veteran of the Mexican war and the colonel of a Confederate regiment during the Civil conflict. He was a native of Ireland, aged 82 years. He came to the Pacific Coast from New Orleans with the argonauts. Liberality and good fellowship were conspicuous traits of his character. So far as known he leaves no relative.—Virginia Report.

Horses Purchased.
A San Francisco horse buyer named G. O. Switzer (no relation to our "Switzer") has been in town for the past several days purchasing horses and mules, presumably for the San Francisco market, but more likely for use by the English in the Transvaal. He succeeded in securing quite a number, and paid good prices for all animals purchased.

NEWS OF THE SAGEBRUSH STATE

Brief Items Culled From Exchanges From the Four Corners of Nevada.

Rev. A. J. McMurry of the Presbyterian church at Carson has been obliged to abandon his pastorate. He made the mistake of accepting the place without first obtaining the California Presbytery's consent to go outside his jurisdiction. Nearly the entire membership of the Carson church petitioned for his retention.

The Carson papers speak highly of the Shirley troupe, which will appear in Reno next week.

Prospects are good for a bountiful ice crop up the river. Two men named Wilson and Brown have been arrested near The Dalles, Oregon, for highway robbery and horse stealing. It is supposed at Elko that the Brown arrested is James Brown, who is wanted there for horse stealing. Steps have been taken to ascertain the identity of the men arrested.

The estimated grain product of Carson valley this season was 4,000 tons, divided as follows: Barley 3,000, wheat 500 and oats 500. The average was as large as usual, and the crop good, both in quantity and quality.

The Carlin shooting is still a topic of conversation on the streets and various opinions are expressed. But among them all there is universal sympathy for Mrs. Paett and her father's family.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. S. Summerfield returned from a visit to Carson last evening.

Hon. Frank Norcross got in from Carson last evening.

George Bliss will leave this morning for Oakland to visit his mother, after which he will continue on to British Columbia.

G. B. Williams and wife arrived from the west yesterday and will spend a few days visiting friends and relatives in Reno.

Secretary of State Howell was in Reno yesterday.

F. M. Schadler departed for San Francisco on a business trip last evening.

BREVITIES.

A number of Renoites went to Carson yesterday to attend the United States Court.

Yesterday was the one hundredth anniversary of the death of Washington.

The Betrothal Ring.

The early history of the wedding ring is not easy to trace, as it was apt to be confused with the betrothal ring. This was once the more important of the two, for in the days of our forefathers the betrothal was the great ceremony and marriage only the ratification of the contract. Then a spouse was a betrothed person, and to espouse was to be betrothed. The ceremony of espousal or betrothal was celebrated with all possible solemnity as the contract of a future "eternal bond of love." No doubt the reason for thus solemnizing an engagement was that in times of violence and lawlessness the church thought it needful to protect the woman and therefore made the betrothal so sacred that a violation of the contract was punished with excommunication. A betrothal service was used, which still forms part of the French and Italian ritual, and, indeed, the first part of the Anglican marriage rite down to the woman's "I will" is simply the old betrothal service.

Remarkable Tumors.

Some remarkable records of tumors are given in The Lancet. The largest known is a uterine tumor that weighed 195 pounds, described by a doctor of Bucharest. Hunter removed one weighing 140 pounds from a woman whose weight without the tumor was 95 pounds. The largest solid tumor of this class weighed 106 pounds. The record for ovarian tumors is held by a Chinese patient, who had one weighing 169 pounds; without it she weighed 77 pounds. There is a New York one of 149 pounds and a German one of 146. For mammary tumors a case is on record where the growth in one breast weighed 84 pounds and in the other 40 pounds.

Didn't Know His Boss.

John I. Blair in his earlier days owned a western railroad along the route of which he established a series of lunchrooms, at which employees of the road were to be charged 50 cents and all passengers 75 cents. Mr. Blair once dined at one of these places and, concluding his meal, laid down a half dollar.

"Hold on!" cried the cashier. "You don't belong to this road!" "I know that," replied Mr. Blair. "The road belongs to me."

Gotham's Millionaires.

At the present time there are between 500 and 1,000 men in New York who are worth $1,000,000 or more. In 1815, when New York had a population of 110,000, there were only 19 men who were assessed at $100,000 or more, and the highest assessment was only $200,000.

The cost of keeping up the drinking fountains and cattle troughs in London is $8,500 per annum. A single trough in a busy thoroughfare costs $250.

The willow is one of the most adaptable of plants. A willow switch stuck in the wet will almost invariably take root.

MINES AND MINING

IN THIS STATE

Items Written and Clipped About Nevada's Leading Industry.

The Dexter at Tascorara is said to be giving a better account of itself than ever, the management having recently encountered ore showing as high as $9,000 per ton in gold and silver. Potomac stock has been assessed 10 cents per share.

Silver City is said to be one of the liveliest camps in Nevada. There are a number of small mines in the vicinity that are paying well and the town has not gone down with the Comstock.

The Morgan mill yesterday commenced crushing ore from the Con. Cal. and Va. mine and will handle about 75 tons in 24 hours. There are about 1,000 tons on hand, and the mill will be kept running steadily for a long time.

Married at Oakland.

Dr. A. Huffaker of Carson and Miss Edith Taylor of Oakland were married at the home of the bride's parents at Oakland yesterday afternoon. Dr. Huffaker is well and favorably known in Carson, where he has an extensive practice. Mr. and Mrs. Huffaker will leave for New York shortly, where Dr. Huffaker will take special medical studies.

E. M. Sain, of the Lovelock Tribune, was in town yesterday. Mr. Sain speaks highly of Reno and said that with the exception of Lovelock the riverside city is the only place in Nevada.

A Life and Death Fight.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I would not be without it even if it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure Throat, Chest and Lung troubles." Regular size 50c and $1. WHEELMEN HAD A

JOLLY GOOD TIME

Their Reception to Volunteers Last Evening Proves a Grand Success.

The Reno Wheelmen upheld their established reputation for hospitality in the reception tendered to the volunteers last evening. It was one of the most successful entertainments, from a social point of view, held by that club in many a moon. Invitations were sent to every member of the club, and those who did not attend missed a treat.

The program was announced by Frank Coffin to be an "informal affair," but a glance at the following will show what a good list of talent was present: Solo. John Syme Recitation. Fat McCarran Mandolin solo. Mr. Kinney Vocal solo. Lester Merrill Instrumental duet. Messrs. Cummings and Crawford Vocal solo. George Ward A Little of Everything. Mascot Wilson Then came what everyone wanted—something to eat, dished up in good old fashioned style. Coffee, in tin cups, like mother used to make, and cake that everybody's mother made; sausage, sandwiches, bananas, oranges, apples—but what's the use of dwelling on things that have passed.

Everyone loaded themselves with good things, after which the cornob pipes were refilled and a pleasant hour spent in listening to reminiscences by the soldier boys from the Philippines.

The Poor Gazoo.

Last evening's issue of the Evening Thing, that would fain be called a contemporary, makes light of the news gathering facilities of the JOURNAL by calling attention to an article published in this paper a day or two ago. Said article was in reference to a rumor regarding the suspension of the Virginia Chronicle. If the Gazoo would devote half its spare time to publishing the news of Reno it would not find its circulation list diminishing at so alarming a rate as it is at present. The people know when they are getting the news; the JOURNAL's fast increasing circulation list proves that. It makes one feel bad to be on a sinking ship, don't it, Allen?

To-Nights Play.

At McKissick's Opera House tonight the Rentz-Santley Novelty and Burlesque Company will be on hand to cure any and every one of the most severe case of the blues imaginable, for they don't do a thing to you except to start you laughing at the rise of the curtain and you keep at it to the finish of the performance. The performance begins with a musical skit entitled "A Mask Ball," in which all the company appear, followed by a well selected and presented olio of specialties, introducing the newest songs and dances and the most catchy music, concluding with the side-splitting burlesque, "The High Flyers' Club," in which is portrayed female club life as enjoyed by the feminine four hundred.

Glorious News.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters have cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent. This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson's Druggist Guaranteed.

School Exercises.

The pupils of the first and second grades of the primary school under the efficient charge of Miss Unruh, gave a delightful entertainment in the Riverside school rooms yesterday. The little tots acquitted themselves in a very creditable manner, and Miss Unruh deserves much praise for the manner in which the little ones carried through their parts.

Twentieth Century Club.

The Twentieth Century Club will hold its regular meeting this afternoon at 3:15. Mrs. J. E. Stubbs will speak to the members on important matters. The following informal program will also be rendered: Musical director. Miss Schadler Song. Geo. Ward Recitation. Fred Nathan Reading. Mrs. J. A. Lewis Song. Hepburn Michael Reading. Miss Loder Song. A BAND OF BRAKE-BEAM TOURISTS

Wandering Willies, Cold and Dirty, Drop off the Flier to Warm and Feed up.

Mud-spattered, cold, hungry and stiff four weary knights of the road crawled out from under the west-bound flier yesterday morning.

"Say, Bill, that's de crimpiest ride I ever had, and I've rode de oil box in Dakota when dey had ter thaw de fire in de engine too, see."

The object from which these remarks came was one of the worst specimens of the bum that it has ever been the JOURNAL scribe's misfortune to run across. The other three were semi-respectable when compared with him and seemed to be under his tutelage, for he addressed them by saying:

"Here, yer big farmers, chase yerselves er de fast ting yer know Johnny Law 'll have yer sweeping de main stems." With that the gang made for a near by saloon to wash off the soot, snow and cinders that had been gathered up during their breakbeam ride from Wadsworth here.

About an hour afterwards the quartet was busily engaged in foraging for the price of a meal, which is not a very difficult task, for the people of Reno are noted for their liberality even to the poor outcasts known as bums.

In a great many instances these by-way aristocrats are not worthy of assistance, but there are exceptions and many a worthy man, through adverse circumstances, is forced to the same level as their less-worthy associates. It is for this reason that a person dislikes to refuse any of them the price of a meal.

Announcement.

I have just received a complete line of working and dress shirts of the latest patterns and styles, which I will sell at bedrock prices. I wish to call particular attention to a working shirt I am handling. It is undoubtedly the best working shirt that was ever sold on the Coast for the money. Call and examine the same.

I have all the latest patterns in golf and negligee shirts, in silks and madras cloths.

I am pleased to announce that I have secured the agency of the Wheeler overall, famous on this Coast as being the best fitting and most durable overall on the market. It is rivited, triple-sewed and made of the heaviest and best denim. Try a pair and be convinced.

Free employment office in connection with the store. ALFRED NELSON.

Holiday Vacation.

The public schools will close for the holiday vacation to-day. School will be resumed Tuesday, January 2, which will give the pupils ample time to celebrate Christmas and New Year in a befitting manner.

Examinations at the University will begin Saturday and that institution will close next Thursday, reopening on January 8.

Many of the students will spend the holidays visiting with their parents or relatives.

Work in the Ice Fields.

There has been quite a demand for ice men to work on the ponds at and around Boca during the past few days. Fair wages are paid to those employed but there seems to be considerable trouble experienced in securing all the men needed. The ice is not thick enough to be cut as yet, the men now employed being engaged in keeping the snow off the ice already formed in order that it may freeze more rapidly.

A Former Student Married.

A. Belknap, a former student of the University here, and Miss Ida Brule, a sister of "Babe" Brule of the University, were quietly married at San Rafael on Wednesday last. Only a few intimate friends of the young couple were present at the ceremony. The announcement was quite a surprise to the many Reno friends of the young couple.

A Prisoner From Austin.

United States Marshal Harry Humphreys brought in a prisoner charged with selling whiskey to Indians from Austin last night.

The man's name is Benjamin Reed and he has been a resident of Austin for the past twenty years. This is his first offense. He will be taken to Carson this morning for trial before the United States court.

The Appetite of a Goat.

Is envied by all poor dyspeptics whose Stomach and Liver are out of order. All such should know that Dr. King's New Life Pills, the wonderful Stomach and Liver Remedy, gives a splendid appetite, sound digestion and a regular bodily habit that insures perfect health and great energy. Only 25 cents, at Hodgkinson's drug store.

IS IT RIGHT For an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C.

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this medicine in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

An Epidemic of Diarrhoea.

Mr. A. Sanders, writing from Coconut Grove, Fla., says there has been quite an epidemic of diarrhoea there. He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says he also recommended it to others and they say it is the best medicine they ever used. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.
